

Fall

- Visit Anthro Advising
-Make a 2-year plan, complete decaration
- Visit Study Abroad Office
-Think about next summer or fall
- Go Online: Career Advice Network
-Set up a profile, think of post-grad plans
- Attend Arch/BioAnth Lunches and Colloquia
- Hang with Anthro Society
- Read Faculty Pages and Research Interests
-Look for faculty with your interests
- Visit Faculty During Office Hours
-Check the Anth website for tips

Winter

- Set Up A Career Advice Network Consultation
-It's free. Talk about post-grad paths
- Take ANTH97
-Explore future lab opportunities
- Attend Anthro Society Events
- Go To Office Hours
Seriously.
- Go to the Fieldwork and Internship Workshop
- Attend Colloquia and Arch/BioAnth Lunches

Spring

- Set Up A Second CAN Consultation
- Take ANTH97
-Or explore lab assistantships
- Go to the Fieldwork and Internship Workshop
- Meet Peer Advisers, Look At Tentative Curriculum
-Update your final year plan
- Visit Office Hours
-Keep building relationships with faculty
- Identify a Faculty Mentor for Post-Grad Plans
- Pursuing a Thesis?
-Talk about summer research with advisor
- Go To Anthro Society Events
- Attend Arch/BioAnth Lunches and Colloquia

Anthropology Enrichment Plan

TWO YEARS OR BUST

This plan doesn't have anything to do with grades and may not get you credits, but it will help you get the most out of your undergraduate experience and set you up for the next steps. Are you ready to go the extra mile?

Summer:

- Consider Taking Lab Courses
- Field School?
- Doing A Thesis?
Consider starting research
- Summer Abroad?

Fall

- Consider Being A Peer Adviser
Or...
- Consider Being An Anthro Society Officer
- Check On Remaining Requirements
-(At Anthro advising)
- Visit A Museum
- Hang With Santa Cruz Archaeological Society
-Go to one of their awesome events!

Winter

- Look Up Grad School Application Deadlines
-Create personal deadlines and a checklist
- Consider Being A Peer Adviser

Spring

- Write a Story for the Anthropology Chronicle
-Get Published
- Consider Being A Peer Adviser

You did it!
Complete this sheet
...plus all catalogue requirements... for a state-of-the-art degree in anthropology!